

Seton Hall University
Faculty Senate
Instructional Technology Committee Report for November 19 Senate Meeting

The committee met again on November 10, 2021.

The committee worked on a survey to assess

- the current use of technology in the classroom (for remote instruction versus other purposes),
- the current use of technology for research,
- potential unmet technological needs for teaching and research purposes,
- teaching and research technology training needs.

Respectfully submitted,
